Fast Facts: Level IV NICU

The Level IV NICU at AdventHealth for Children in Orlando offers the highest level of care available to neonatal babies, including:

- Integrated team of specialists who provide comprehensive diagnostic and therapeutic services, from minimally invasive surgery to highly complex, leading-edge care and procedures
- State-of-the-art programs and services, including nitric oxide therapy, hypothermia management, surfactant therapy and our Little Miracles Unit, specializing in caring for babies born before 26 weeks gestation.
- An advanced neonatal respiratory program to prevent and aggressively manage severe respiratory diseases in pre-term, as well as full-term, high-risk infants
- Expert assistance in parent education, including CPR training, certified lactation consultants, screening specialists and developmental follow-ups through our NICU Grad Clinic
- An innovative music therapy program that encourages babies to feed regularly without use of feeding tubes
- Developmental care that focuses on positioning, comfort and feeding assessments to provide each baby with their own plan for success

Dedicated Neonatal Transport

If your child is delivered at another hospital and requires our services, a team of specially trained registered nurses and respiratory therapists is dispatched to accompany your child along the way to an AdventHealth for Children NICU.

The care provided en route is identical to that of our NICU, as the transport team is in constant communication with us before, during and after transport by ambulance or AdventHealth Flight I, our emergency air-medical transport service.
